

No Buildup of Hostilities in Korea

By JOHN RODERICK
SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Despite North Korean attacks in which 25 South Koreans and six Americans have been killed in the past two weeks, U.S. officers said today they do not think the Communists are building up to major hostilities along the armistice line between North and South Korea.

South Korean officials said they believe the ambush of an American patrol early Wednesday, in which six American soldiers and a South Korean were killed and a seventh American was wounded, was timed to embarrass the Seoul government during Johnson's visit.

The South Koreans pointed out that the attack eight hours before the President left for home was only the second serious incident in the American sector of the Korean front since the 1953 armistice.

A second North Korean attack in the closing hours of the President's visit, belatedly disclosed today, occurred three hours after the ambush and 40 miles to the east.

The South Korean army said infiltrators believed to be North Korean army regulars fired on a South Korean post. The South Koreans returned the fire, killing one of the infiltrators, and pursued the attackers. In the chase, a South Korean mine was exploded, killing two South Korean captains, and a South Korean sergeant was wounded. The North Koreans escaped.

At least six South Koreans were killed in the same area Oct. 21 by North Korean infiltrators wielding bayonets. The exact toll has not been disclosed.

American sources said no special precautions or alerts have been ordered along the 151-mile armistice line despite an upsurge in border incidents which began Oct. 15, nine days after President Johnson's plans to visit Korea were announced.

"They are heinous crimes but no different from killings in Chicago," said one American officer. "These are getting special attention because of their proximity to the President's visit. Usually we regard them as just more outbreaks of violence by hoodlums."

World's Big Spender Is Spreading

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department, largest spending agency in the world, is spreading more of its business around. It's boosted the percentage of contracts to small business firms by one-third since 1962.

Pentagon figures showed today that small firms received $12.7 billion in contracts and subcontracts in fiscal year 1966, which ended last June 30. This was a jump of 43 per cent over 1965 and the highest total since the Defense Department began keeping records in 1951.

American Gets Award in Chemistry

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The 1966 Nobel Prize for chemistry was awarded today to Prof. Robert S. Mulliken of the University of Chicago.

Mulliken, born in Massachusetts in 1896, was awarded the prize for "his fundamental work concerning chemical bonds and the electronic structure of molecules by the molecular orbital method," the Swedish Academy of Science said.

Mulliken received his Ph.D. in physical chemistry at the University of Chicago in 1921. Afterward, he held positions at Harvard and New York University, until he rejoined the University of Chicago in 1928. Since 1931 he has been professor of physics there.

He organized there the laboratory of molecular structure and spectra, of which he is still the director.

Earlier in the day, the Nobel Physics Prize for 1966 was awarded to Prof. Alfred Kastler of Paris.

means 28,000 small businesses around the nation shared in the increased defense spending this year, said Albert C. Lazure, director of the Pentagon's small business program.

"We really started putting a strong emphasis on small businesses about four years ago," Lazure said in an interview. The small business directorate subsequently was upgraded and now employs 661 persons across the nation who act as talent scouts for the Pentagon, trying to interest competent little firms to bid for major defense contracts.

"It's amazing the number of people who are afraid of government," Lazure said. To overcome these fears, he added, the Pentagon sponsors a series of clinics aimed at teaching operators of small firms that "things aren't as bad as they seem. A lot of red tape can be overcome."

Another major step, Lazure said, was Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's recent order liberalizing regulations and permitting advance payments to small businessmen "to get them over the hump."

Big business, which got the bulk of the $33.9 billion the Pentagon awarded to U.S. firms this year, does its share too.

The top 714 prime contractors all have their own versions of small business programs — prompted by the Defense Department's policy of putting clauses in all major contracts urging the big firms to subcontract wherever possible to small firms.

LINCOLN CENTER TO TRY THE FORUM

NEW YORK (AP) — The Lincoln Center Repertory company starts experimental work this season in its 299-seat Forum theater.

Four productions are planned in the basement playhouse, while the major schedule of presentations goes on in the company's 1,500-seat Beaumont playhouse.

Herbert Blau, co-director, said the intent is to provide "a proving ground where no authentic voice is ever lost."

FOR THE BIRDS is the art of Swiss sculptor Peter von Wattenwyl, holding one of the "birds" he has on display at an exhibition in Berne. He says he loves all kinds of birds, even these imaginary numbers which "nature inspires me to create."

One Dead in Malvern Plant Blast

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — An explosion in a large building housing diesel engines at the Reynolds Metals Co. plant at Jones Mill killed one person, injured two others and touched off a fire that extensively damaged the structure Wednesday night.

The explosion, heard more than one-half mile away, apparently occurred in one of the 25 engines in the 400-foot long building, the Hot Spring County sheriff's office said. The engines are powered by natural gas, but it was not known what caused the blast.

Dead is Wallace Cagle, 50, of Malvern, who was working in the building along with the two injured and two other persons who were not hurt.

W. H. Vantrease, 40, and Wayne Crumby, 22, both of Malvern, were hospitalized in satisfactory condition.

Authorities feared for a time that the fire would spread to a nearby building housing other diesel engines, but firemen controlled the blaze within more than two hours. The engines power cauldrons that melt ore for aluminum.

No estimate of the damage was made, but a Reynolds spokesman said 20 per cent of the operating capacity of the plant would be shut down indefinitely.

Firemen from Hot Springs, Malvern and Benton helped fight the fire.

Preservation Study Set

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus named an unofficial committee Wednesday to study the preservation of beautiful streams in the state. H. Charles Johnston Jr. of Little Rock was named temporary chairman pending an organizational meeting.

Rockefeller's Personal Data Is Missing

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Accountants for multimillionaire Winthrop Rockefeller, Republican candidate for governor of Arkansas, have reported the disappearance from their files of two Rockefeller documents, one of which reveals his financial worth.

Glen Rogers, a partner in Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., of New York, said the documents were a copy of Rockefeller's 1965 tax return and an audit of Rockefeller's enterprises that "is certainly a very confidential matter with regard to his financial worth."

Rogers said the documents had been in a file cabinet containing other Rockefeller records in the firm's Little Rock office. He said the loss was discovered Tuesday after a tip from an anonymous caller.

City and state authorities began an investigation.

Rockefeller, who opposes Jim Johnson, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, in next Tuesday's election, declined comment, saying he didn't want to compromise the investigation.

Rogers said the documents were last used by accountants 36 in late September and could have disappeared anytime after that. He said no possibility existed that they were mislaid.

P. E. Stanley, managing partner in the firm, said the figures contained in the documents were similar to those that appeared in an advertisement Monday in the Jonesboro (Ark.) Sun.

The advertisement, labeled "the myth of the great business man," said Winrock Farms owned by Rockefeller lost more than $1,365,000 last year.

Stanley said the only sources for the figures were the accountants' files, the Internal Revenue Service or the Arkansas Revenue Department.

The Sun said the half-page advertisement was placed, and paid for, by Glenn Bennett, a former salesman for a Jonesboro office equipment firm, was office manager in the Democratic primary campaign for governor of former Arkansas Congressman Brooks Hays. Hays ran third and was eliminated in the preferential primary, which was led by Johnson.

Food Store Pickets Claims Good Results

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — A women's group that began picketing four chain supermarkets last week at Helena claimed Wednesday that it was getting results in a campaign for lower food prices.

Two of the four stores began lowering prices from two to five per cent this week on such staple items as coffee and milk.

Mrs. Royce Coker, head of the women's group, said both stores had reduced advertising and one had "cut our stamps and all the gimmicks so that it can give us lower prices." She said the other store "had no gimmicks to begin with."

Tells How 10 of His Men Died

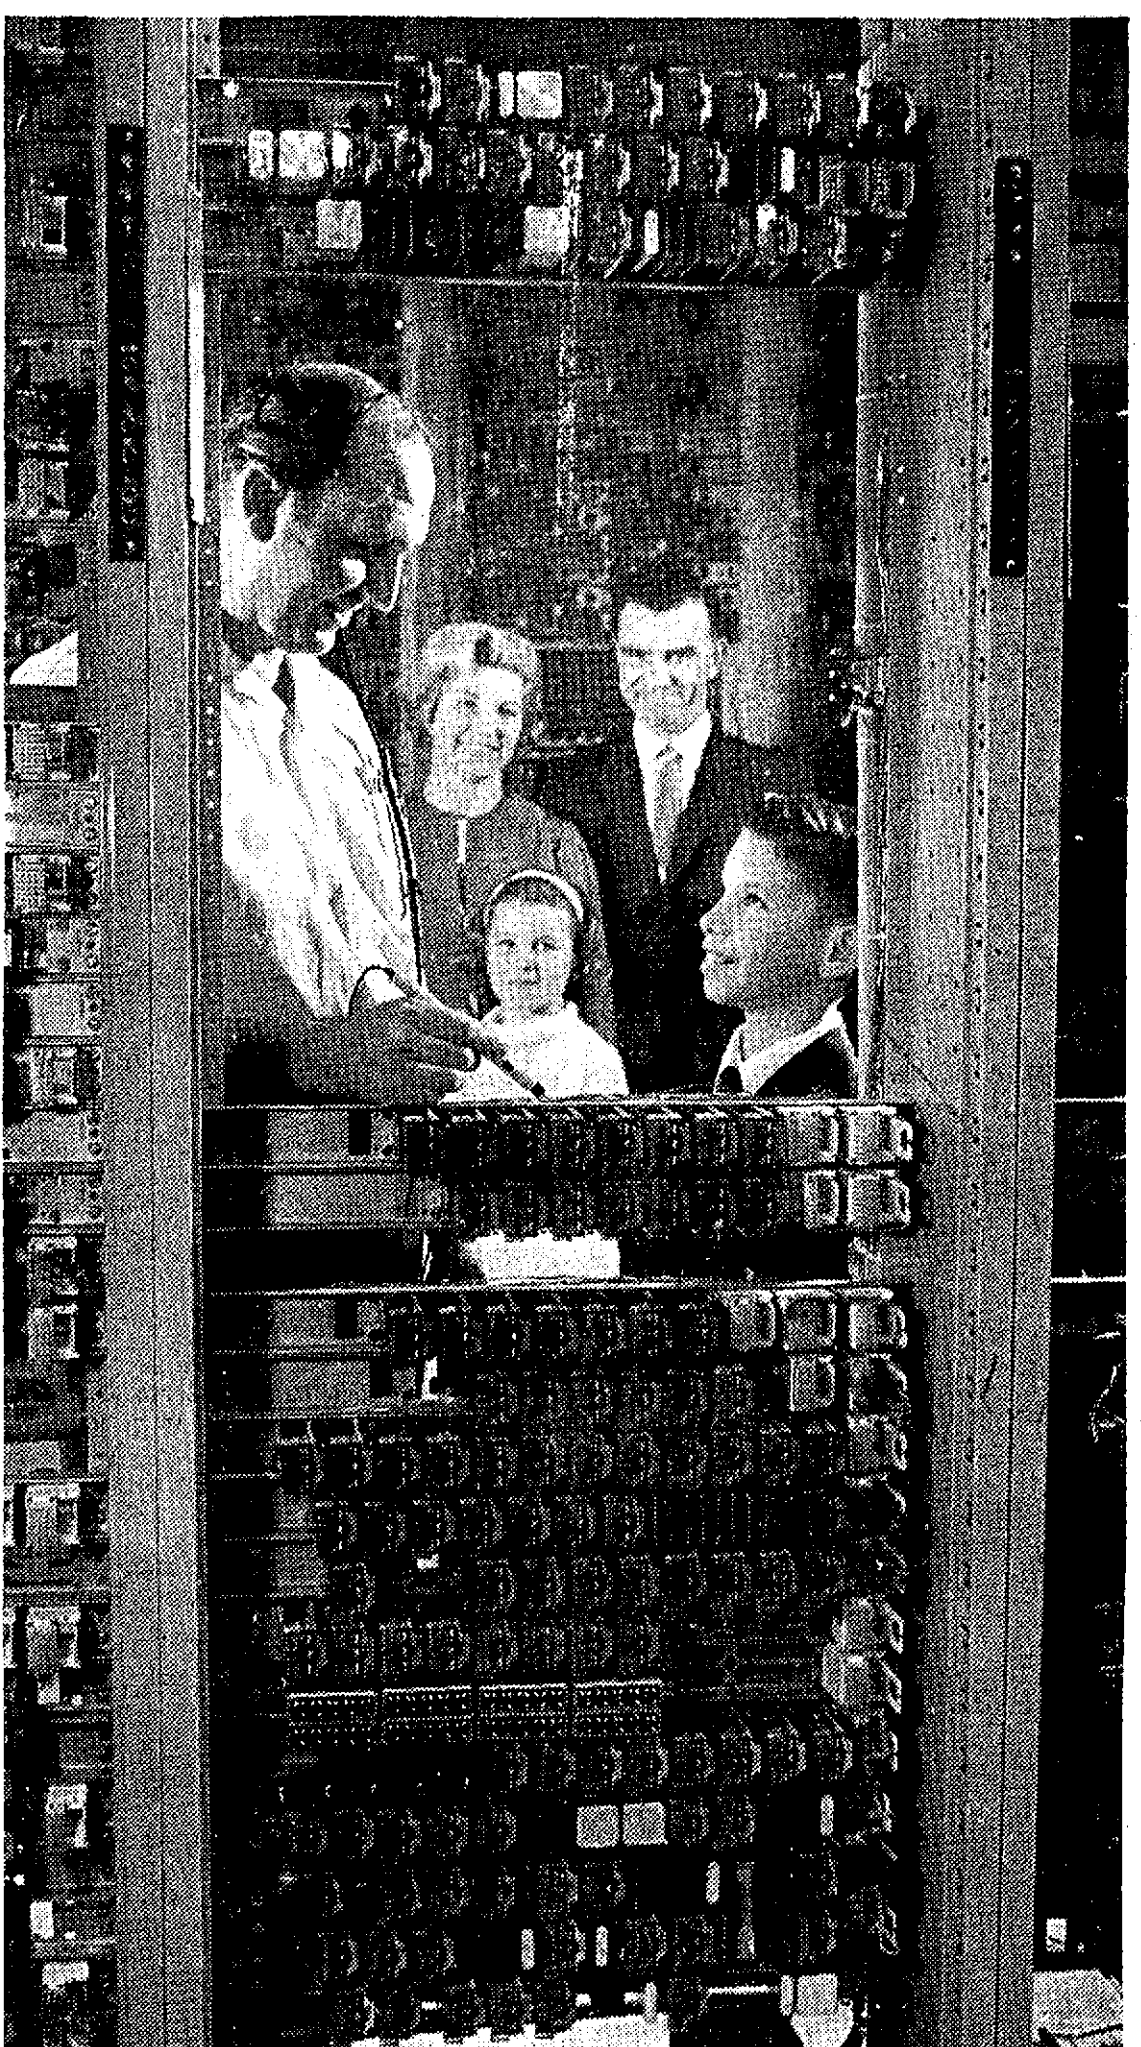

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As a veteran firefighter—sobbing in recollection and grimacing in pain—described how 10 of his men were killed, disaster struck again.

Four young Marines perished Wednesday fighting one of many brush fires kindled in low humidity and driven by seasonal searing desert winds. The blazes were scattered across a 100-mile swath of Southern California.

Tuesday, 10 U.S. Forest Service men—specialists in attacking the most vicious fires—died in another inferno. An unexpected gust of wind caused both disasters. The Marines were on high ground overlooking a canyon called Piedra de Lumbre—Rock of Fire—at Camp Pendleton 80 miles south of Los Angeles. Three hundred men controlled the fire, one of several which scorched 5,000 acres of harsh, brown land on the base.

From his hospital bed the leader of the Forest Service group, George King, 32, described through blistered lips the loss of 10 of his men near

Thursday, November 3, 1966
Pacolina Reservoir. "We were making headway," said King. "Then the wind suddenly stopped. Twenty seconds of stillness. "Then it became a hill of hell. It happened so fast. The fire was on top of us. I saw it coming. "I yelled 'Move out! Move out!' The rest of the crew saw it too. Everybody knew where to go—to a safety zone we picked out. "Some made it. Some didn't." Hill vs. Mountain
There is no precise difference between a hill and a mountain. Hills are generally smaller, although some mountains are called hills.

"All that for a telephone call?"

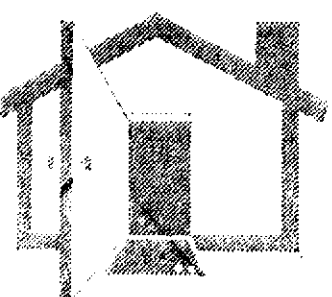

Southwestern Bell invites all Hope and Bodcaw telephone users to attend our open house from 3 to 8:30 p.m. on Friday, and from 2 to 8:30 p.m. on Saturday at the Hope telephone building.

You'll see many interesting things inside this telephone building, which we feel is helping us serve our customers in this area better than ever before.

See the complex switching equipment that comes to life when you spin your telephone dial... learn how your calls are sent swiftly across town, or across the nation with direct distance dialing... see exactly how DDD works to help you.

There'll be free souvenirs and refreshments. That's this weekend—Friday and Saturday—at the Hope telephone building, located at 320 South Main, across from First Baptist Church.

We're looking forward to seeing you.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This is a good time to be a Negro actor, as Godfrey Cambridge can testify.

Once limited to roles as servants or as protagonists in occasional films on racial themes, Negro actors are now being cast in important movie and television roles in which their race is immaterial. You see them playing detectives, lawyers and ordinary citizens in television series. You will be seeing them more and more in costarring roles in features.

Comedian Cambridge is one of the major recipients of this new benefit. Experienced in the New York theater — "Purlie Victorious," films — "The Angry Man," and the television — himself in demand for roles in which his race is not an element of the plot.

Last summer he costarred with Edward G. Robinson, Raquel Welch, Vittorio de Sica and Rort Wagner in MGM's "The Biggest Bundle of Them All," which was filmed in France and Italy. Cambridge played one of a gang of inept thieves who attempt a $5 million platinum haul.

"It's a role that any actor could play, white or black," he remarked. "At first they wanted me cast as a jazz musician, but I was against it. 'I'm literate and don't need a local option to speak English. I learned how to speak the language at a school in Canada, where you got punched in the nose if you didn't talk correctly.' Born in New York City, he was sent to grammar school in SYSSOVA, Scotia, where his parents had first emigrated from British Guiana.

Cambridge finally played a concert violinist in "The Biggest Bundle of Them All." Recently he portrayed a nether fumbling gangster in "The Busy Body," with Marty Ingels as his partner.

"The fact that I'm able to play a gangster in a movie nowadays is a sign of our growing sophistication toward racial matters," he reasoned.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — An engineer speaking at a meeting of the American Public Health Association this week complained about "panic and scare" techniques which predict doom 35 years ahead and hint at disasters around the corner.

He was referring specifically to predictions of water and food pollution. Obviously, he could have included some worrisome peaks into the future made recently in television documentaries — air pollution, life on other planets, widespread use of insecticides and more.

The television viewer must be forgiven if he finds it hard to get steamed up about a possible shortage of drinking water in the distant future or an impending traffic jam that could stop everything. His set gives him so many things to "panic and scare" about right now.

There is the possibility, explored constantly, that each of us offends in one way or another. Am I using the right mouthwash in order to get ahead? And should I tell the boss that he is not? Is my husband inattentive because of my gray hairs, or is it my tooth paste? Do those tattle-tale wrinkles suggest I'm using the wrong soap? A lot of viewers by now must have come to the conclusion that if one watches afternoon and late-night movies Ray Milland played the guy who lost the girl in every motion picture made in Hollywood up to 1945 — except the ones in which Ronald Reagan lost the girl.

Now, it appears, Tony Curtis has starred in all motion pictures made since World War II, except the ones in which Doris Day starred. This fall has been close to a Tony Curtis-Doris Day festival in prime-time movies.

Network executives are constantly making speeches predicting the day when satellites and laser beams will bring pictures directly into home television sets with new and larger screens. They talk about the world events moving directly into the living room. But some of us think cynically about using all this marvelous scientific equipment — to transport badly chopped-up old movie or a 14th rerun of "Dennis the Menace." Science is wonderful, but programming, very often, is not.

Mrs. E. J. Whitman, Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. Syd McMath, and Mrs. R. L. Broach went to Little Rock Tuesday, where they joined by Mrs. Kelly Bryant, who motored to the Red Apple Inn at Eden Isle. They enjoyed the scenic beauty of the area and returned home Wednesday.

State Holds 6th Spot in Grid Ratings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
There's a major upheaval in The Associated Press' small college football poll this week with four new teams — Massachusetts, Eastern Kentucky State, Weber State and Waynesburg — climbing into the rankings.

North Dakota State held first place, followed closely by San Diego State. Montana State remained No. 3.

The changes were the result of losses by five of last week's rated teams. They were Arkansas State, which was beaten by Lamar Tech 17-0, and fell from fifth to sixth place, plus North Dakota, Middle Tennessee State, Sul Ross State and New Mexico Highlands. The latter four dropped out of the Top Ten.

North Dakota State collected 10 first-place votes and 169 points in the balloting by a national panel of 18 sports writers and broadcasters. San Diego is a close second with five first-place votes and 153 points.

Points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, etc.

North Dakota State and San Diego State meet Saturday night.

Last Saturday, North Dakota State, with an 8-0 record, beat South Dakota 13-0 and San Diego State, 6-0, trounced Fresno State 34-13. Montana State beat North Dakota 59-21 for its seventh victory against one loss.

Tennessee State, a 31-9 winner over Southern University, climbed two notches to fourth. Northwestern State of Louisiana, which downed Troy State of Alabama 14-7, advanced from eighth to fifth.

Massachusetts, which beat previously unbeaten Vermont 27-21, took over the No. 7 spot. The Redmen are followed by Eastern Kentucky State, Weber State and Waynesburg, in that order.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and total points:

1. North Dakota St. (10) 169
2. San Diego St. (5) 153
3. Montana St. (1) 118
4. Tennessee St. (1) 82
5. Northwestern, La. 61
6. Arkansas St. 46
7. Massachusetts 36
8. E. Kentucky St. 21
9. Weber St. 20
10. Waynesburg 18

Winning Team Suffers Agony of Losing

By HAL PARIS
MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Bob Seaman never expected the No. 1 high school football coaching job in Ohio to turn into a nightmare.

But adversity has struck the football fortunes at Massillon High School.

The mighty Tigers, rated the best scholastic team in the state 11 times since 1947, are going through the agony of a four-game losing streak, longest at the school since 1932.

No. 5 looms Friday night when unbeaten Steubenville, the top-ranked grid power in the state, comes to Tigertown.

The 34-year-old Seaman, in his first year here after two brilliant campaigns at Sandusky High School, still maintains a good sense of humor.

"I'm liable to make history losing five in a row," Seaman noted.

From 1932 through last year, a period described as the "modern era" by Massillon boosters, Tiger teams have turned in 13 unbeaten, untied seasons in posting a fabulous 296-34-12 record.

This season, Massillon has a 3-4-1 mark, following two straight schoolboy championships.

It may be small consolation, but Seaman is traveling in some fast company. In 1932, the year Massillon lost four in a row, a young fellow by the name of Paul Brown was in his first year at the Tiger helm.

He bounced back for some pretty good years with the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

The Baltimore Orioles lost only one season series during 1966. The Cleveland Indians beat them 10 times in 18 meetings.

Two Porker Players Out for Saturday

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Linebacker Lee Johnson and tailback Bruce Maxwell will miss Saturday's game with Rice because of injuries, coach Frank Broyles said Wednesday.

Johnson hasn't played since suffering a knee injury in the Texas game. Maxwell suffered a pulled leg muscle in practice a week after the Texas game.

The Porkers worked on goal line offense and defense Wednesday, stressing defending Rice quarterback Robby Shelton. Broyles said the workout was "pretty good, over-all."

Broyles also said practice sessions, which have been running from 90 minutes to two hours long, had been shortened to 80 minutes.

New Club in the Western Conference

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP) — Look for the New Orleans club to become a member of the Western Conference in the National Football League.

The East had its pick last time and took the Atlanta Falcons. Now it's the West's turn. With those 82,500 seats in the Sugar Bowl and red-hot interest in the new entry, the decision should be easy.

Nobody knows exactly how they will stock the New Orleans team. The merger of the NFL and the American Football League and the common draft in January may not permit the new entry the same breaks Atlanta got.

When the Falcons participated in the NFL draft last year they had two picks on each of the first five rounds, including the No. 1 over-all selection.

Tommy Nobis, the Texas Linebacker, was the No. 1 choice. Apparently he was worth it.

Norb Hecker, the Falcons' coach, said he should be the rookie of the year.

When the Falcons were stocked last February, the NFL used the 40-man rosters of opening day as a base. Each team was permitted to freeze 29 of the 40. After the Falcons took one from the 11-man list, each team was permitted to freeze two more players. Then the Falcons were free to take two from the remaining eight.

The 42 men, three from each club, and the rookies from the draft formed the basis of the Falcons. The No. 2 draft, defensive back Bob Riddle of Penn State turned out to be one of the best.

Time Running Out on Royals of Cincinnati

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The outcome was the usual one and the reason was the usual one, but time may be running out on the Cincinnati Royals.

Not for 18 games — stretching back to 1962 — have the New York Knicks beaten the Royals in Cincinnati and Wednesday night was no exception. Five points and a crucial steal in the last two minutes by Oscar Robertson led the Royals to a 131-129 victory.

But the Knicks, who lead Cincinnati by a half-game in the NBA's Eastern Division, were never really out of it and for a time showed signs of breaking the jinx that haunts them.

In other games, Chicago beat Baltimore 102-94 and Boston crushed Los Angeles 133-108.

At Chicago, the Bulls broke a four-game losing streak and evened their record at 5-5. Erwin Mueller topped the Bulls with 26 points and Guy Rodgers had 25. LeRoy Ellis threw in 22 for the Bulls and Gus Johnson had 21.

With Elgin Baylor and Jerry West still on the sidelines, the Lakers fared no better in Boston than they have elsewhere in the league. John Havlicek scored 27 points for the Celtics and Bailey Howell had 20 as Boston moved to within a half-game of Eastern Division — leading Philadelphia.

Jerry Chambers, a rookie from Utah, led the Lakers with 24 points.

Turkey Shoot Planned Here Sunday p.m.

The Hempstead Trap and Skeet Club will hold a Turkey and merchandise shoot at the Airport range, Sunday afternoon, Nov. 5th. The shoot will consist of 10 target events using both the Skeet and Trap equipment. All shooting events will be designed strictly for the hunter and will assimilate actual field conditions as nearly as possible.

There will be a variety of shooting events, so that a person may pick the type of shooting that suits him or her the best. Events will include assimilated quail shooting, from behind a trap that throws all angles, exactly as if quail were getting up. Also there will be pass or cross angle shooting for the Duck hunters.

All in all, the shoot is designed for everyone to have a good time while they sharpen up their eye for the coming hunting seasons. The regular Skeet and Trap shooters will have no advantage whatsoever over the average hunter in this type of shooting, because no regular trap or skeet will be shot, except by mutual consent of the shooters involved.

The shoot will be set up so that a shooter may compete with a squad of other shooters, or may compete against himself in breaking a required number of birds to win a turkey or prize. Prizes, other than turkeys, will consist of various articles used

Everyone is invited to attend the shoot and have a good time. The range will be open Saturday afternoon for anyone wanting to practice.

This shoot is not to be confused with the Turkey shoot that will be held by the local Jaycees at Fair Park. The Jaycees shoot will be at still targets only, with the Skeet Club's being at moving targets only. Persons wanting to shoot still targets should go to the Fair Park and clay bird shooters should come to the Airport. The two groups are co-operating in order to give shooters a personal choice.

Jets' Namath Takes a Rest

SAN JUAN (AP) — Joe Namath, the celebrated quarterback for the New York Jets of the American Football League, was scheduled to return to New York today.

He has spent the last three days in Puerto Rico "just resting" at a resort hotel. Namath was registered under the name of Lambert.

Razorback Player Shows Improvement

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The surgeon attending Claude Smithy, the University of Arkansas football player who collapsed Saturday night and underwent emergency brain surgery in Houston, Tex., reported Wednesday that Smithy continued to show "slight improvement."

The university said the doctor reported that Smithy had some movement of his right leg and lips, had responded to light and was breathing easier.

The doctor said Smithy's vital organs were functioning well, but it wasn't known when it was likely that he would regain consciousness.

"It could be a day or six weeks," he said.

Smithy was hospitalized after the Arkansas-Texas A&M game at College Station.

No Porker Games Will Be on TV

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas announced Wednesday that the Razorbacks' last two home games this season would not be televised.

The university made the announcement in response to queries about the possibility of telecasting the Arkansas games with Rice at Little Rock Saturday and Southern Methodist at Fayetteville Nov. 12.

"A decision has been reached not to establish a precedent by televising sell-out games in Arkansas," said George Cole, assistant athletic director.

Tom Robertson, director of informational services for station KTHV in Little Rock, said his station had offered to telecast the game and allow any other station to pick up and air the program.

Thinks Course Favors Arnie, Jack

TOKYO (AP) — Fred Corcoran, tournament director for the Canada Cup, toured the Tokyo Yomiuri Country Club course today and declared the long tough layout makes Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus of the United States "strong favorites" to win the 14th Olympics of Golf here next week.

He said he was satisfied with the progress of arrangements being made at the hilly, 6,962-yard par-72 layout on Tokyo's outskirts and predicted "a great tournament."

Many tee shots require powerful hits across deep gullies to carry onto the fairway. The 224-yard, par-3 18th is one of the toughest short holes in Japan to reach from the tee.

The course record in competition is 65 set by Toshimasa Fujii of Japan in 1964. But Corcoran said he did not expect that record to be matched by the 72 golfers from 36 countries and regions who will take part in the 72-hole tournament Nov. 10-13.

"It's definitely a course that favors the power hitters," the tournament director said.

Court Rules Against Ball Player

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal jury ruled against Orlando Cepeda Wednesday night in the baseball player's $1 million libel suit against Look magazine.

The jury of seven women and five men deliberated more than 10 hours before finding for the defendant.

Cepeda's attorney, Marvin Lewis, said he would file an immediate appeal with the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

During the 13-day trial, Cepeda said he was libeled by a May 21, 1963 article written by Tim Cohane that said the first baseman was in the front-office doghouse "when he played for the San Francisco Giants."

Look said the article by Cohane, then the magazine's

3 Ties in Young Hockey Loop Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
There have been three ties in the young National Hockey League season, the Toronto Maple Leafs have been involved in all three, all three have come at Toronto and all three times the Leafs had to settle for the ties after holding healthy leads.
The Leafs dug themselves deeper into the rut Wednesday night in a 2-2 deadlock with Montreal in the only NHL game. Toronto already had played to a 4-4 tie with New York and a 3-3 tie with Boston. The Rangers rallied from 3-0 for the deadlock while the Bruins came back from a 3-1 deficit.
This time the Leafs took a 2-0 lead.

The commission joined Houston, Miami and New Orleans in seeking the first championship game involving both pro leagues.

Mississippi School Leads in Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Southern Mississippi seemed well on its way today toward winning the national title in total defense among the nation's major college football teams for the third time in four seasons.
The Southerners have yielded only 117.2 yards a game and hold a commanding lead over runner-up Texas Western, which has given up 155.8 yards a game.
NCAA Service Bureau statistics also showed that Southern Mississippi leads in pass defense with a per game average of 67.8 yards.

Boy Scout Troops 91-62 held a joint meet at Fair Park this week and planned a membership drive. Scoutmasters Olen Overturf and Jerry O'Neal urges all youths ages 10½ through 14 to join the Boy Scout program which is free.

Close Friend of Sheppard Takes Stand

By THOMAS G. REES
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — J. Spencer Houk returns to the witness stand today in the murder retrial of Samuel H. Sheppard after he testified what he went through as a close friend of the family when Marilyn Sheppard was murdered over 12 years ago.
Houk, former Bay Village mayor and a neighbor of the Sheppards at the time Marilyn was bludgeoned to death July 4, 1954, was asked Wednesday by F. Lee Bailey, Sheppard's chief defense counsel:
"Did you ask Dr. Stephen Sheppard to ask Dr. Sam Sheppard to plead guilty to manslaughter?"

"I did not," Houk said.
Bailey then asked Houk if he thought that Sheppard's two older brothers, Drs. Stephen A. and Richard N., or Sheppard himself, were responsible for the "finger of suspicion pointing in your direction."
"I had a feeling they were trying to tell me something," Houk replied.
Sheppard, 42, served nine years of a second-degree murder conviction before a U.S. Supreme Court ruling freed him.
Bailey continued his questioning. Did Houk feel there was pressure on him during the investigation?
"Well, it certainly was no picnic," he said.
Was he angered when Sheppard's brothers accused him of having "affection for Marilyn?"
"I don't believe I was angered," he replied.

Under questioning by County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan, Houk recounted the day Marilyn was found dead in her second-floor bedroom at the Sheppards' lake front home, three houses from where the Houks lived.
Houk said he was awakened about 5:45 a.m. by a telephone call from Sheppard, and quoted the former osteopath as saying: "My God, Spen, get over here quick, I think they killed Marilyn."
Houk said he and his wife Esther were the first outsiders on the scene and arrived in five minutes. He said he saw Sheppard "half-sitting, half-slumping down in an easy chair in the den."
Houk said Sheppard told him he had seen a man going out the door near the lake. Sheppard has maintained that a bushy-haired stranger murdered his wife.
Houk and his wife were divorced in 1962 and she is a potential witness in the retrial that started Oct. 24.

Bacteria in Milk No Cause for Alarm

WASHINGTON (AP) — Medical experts say discovery of salmonella bacteria in samples of Borden's "Starlac" dry milk is no cause for alarm.
The infection of the digestive tract caused by the organism is seldom serious, said Dr. Albert Martin, chief of the salmonella unit at the communicable disease unit in Atlanta, Ga.
Martin commented Wednesday night after the Food and Drug Administration announced all stocks of the Borden Food Co. nonfat dry milk product were being recalled from distributors and stores across the nation.
The company notified all distribution points to request return of all stocks of Starlac, officials said, and has arranged to make reimbursements for packages returned to stores by customers.
An FDA spokesman, asked to pinpoint where samples containing the organism had been found, said persons anywhere in the nation who have Starlac in their homes "might well be advised to return it."
The most common medical effect of salmonella is an infection which results in stomach pains, diarrhea, vomiting and often fever. Although the victim is quite uncomfortable for two or three days, the communicable disease expert said, the case usually is relatively mild and is treated at home.
Occasionally, Martin said, "among people very susceptible — such as children and older adults — it can become serious." Deaths have been caused by it, he added, but they are infrequent.
In New York, a Borden spokesman said, "We have no idea how many cases of the product have gone out." He said Borden has marketed the product since 1939.
The plant where it now is produced, in Dixon, Ill., has been closed, he said. But he added that production methods used by the company in no way contributed to the infection of the product by the organism.

JOHN PAUL HAMMERSCHMIDT

Ask

"Is Your Congressman Voting For YOU?"

- Why is our cost of living still going up?
- Why is money so hard to borrow, and interest rates so high?

Our money isn't worth much these days. It's the fault of our national government. The decision-makers in Washington are keeping a poor balance between the amount of money spent and the amount of money received; and the same poor balance exists between the government debt and the banking system.

Why the imbalance?
Your congressman now in Washington is a part of the problem. He and others voting with the Johnson Administration on virtually every issue have set the stage for a frightening national disaster with their uncontrollable urge to spend your money and mine.

Here are some spending matters your congressman has been involved in recently. Decide for yourself if cuts could not have been made; if Mr. Trimble voted the way you wanted him to vote.

1. FOREIGN AID REDUCTION

A bill to reduce the amount requested by the President for foreign aid.
Mr. Trimble supported LBJ's position.
Mr. Hammerschmidt would have voted to reduce the amount as a move toward reasonable economy in the overseas aid program.

Spend More—Spend Less

TRIMBLE

2. POVERTY PROGRAM ECONOMY

A bill to reduce the amount requested by the President from $1.9 billion to the 1965 level of $947.5 million—a cut of $952.5 million.
Mr. Trimble supported LBJ's position.
Mr. Hammerschmidt would have voted to reduce the amount because of the evidence of waste, excessive payrolls and mismanagement in the poverty program. Also he feels there should be evidence that the actual poor are being helped before doubling the amount of funds requested.

Spend More—Spend Less

X

3. ESTABLISHING NEW H.U.D. DEPARTMENT

A bill requested by the President to establish a cabinet level department of housing and urban development.
Mr. Trimble supported LBJ's request.
Mr. Hammerschmidt would have voted against the bill because it does not add service, economy or efficiency to the functions of the agencies transferred to the new secretary but merely adds to the ever expanding federal bureaucracy at a much greater cost to the taxpayers.

Spend More—Spend Less

4. RENT SUPPLEMENT ELIMINATION

A bill to eliminate the rents supplement provision of the H.U.D. Act of 1965 which authorized a new program of federal payments of rent supplements on behalf of individuals and families who were unable to obtain adequate private housing for rents which were equal to or less than one-quarter of their incomes. The President requested to authorize these payments.
Mr. Trimble supported LBJ's position.
Mr. Hammerschmidt would have voted to delete the rent supplements provision because he doesn't think the federal government is justified in starting a program which might eventually subsidize rents of up to 4 million families, while their neighbors paid all their own rent or purchased homes.

5. TEACHER CORPS

Authorization for $36.1 million in 1966 and $64.7 million in 1967 to develop a corps of skilled teachers to improve schooling in slums and other impoverished areas—requested by the President.
Mr. Trimble supported LBJ's request.
Mr. Hammerschmidt would have voted to delete the authorization of a teachers corps because he doesn't believe the people in Arkansas' 3rd District want the federal government getting in a position where they might control curriculums and policies of schools by paying teachers salaries in local public schools. It will probably prove to be only an opening wedge to vast expenditures in the future.

6. A TOKEN CUT OF 5% IN VIEW OF RISING PRICES AND THE COSTS OF THE MILITARY EFFORT IN VIET NAM—TO BE MADE IN THREE DEPARTMENTS NOT INVOLVING MILITARY PROGRAMS

The motions were made by Rep. Frank Bow, ranking minority member of Committee on Appropriations, for Interior appropriations, Treasury-Post Office appropriations, Labor and H.E.W. appropriations. The President's position was not to cut spending.
Mr. Trimble supported LBJ's position.
Mr. Hammerschmidt would have voted to make the token cuts in spending on these non-military programs with the view that it would be healthy and that reduced government spending is more preferable than an ultimate tax increase.

Spend More—Spend Less

HAMMERSCHMIDT

7. PARTICIPATION SALES ACT OF 1966

This authorized the government to sell certain assets they have acquired through federal lending program. The President supported the Act.
Mr. Trimble supported LBJ.
Mr. Hammerschmidt would have voted against the sale of these participations in pools of government assets because he would have seen, as it is now developing, that it would result in higher interest rates and benefit only large investors.
Now the average little man is limited to drawing only 4 ¾ percent on his savings and loan pass book account, whereas the big money investor can buy government participations at around 6 percent. Also the added annual interest expense of this Act to the government has been estimated to cost from $10 million to $25 million.

There are certainly many areas of spending by the federal government that Mr. Hammerschmidt would have promoted and supported. Some of these that vitally affect the future of our District are:

Mr. Trimble voted Sept 20th to support LBJ in an economy motion to make a modest cut of 45 million dollars from a 3 billion 6 hundred million dollar foreign aid appropriation bill. The Republican sponsored motion to cut 45 million passed by 5 votes which is good news to the taxpayers but through no help from Mr. Trimble.

An amendment to the Poverty Bill proposed that not more than one out of every 100 poverty office jobs should be in the $20,000 to $26,000 pay brackets. Trimble voted against limiting the number of scandalously high salaries in the Poverty Program.

THE TRUTH ABOUT FORCED SCHOOL CONSOLIDATION Initiated Act No. 1

In the November General Election the State of Arkansas is faced with a proposal that would DESTROY APPROXIMATELY ONE-THIRD OF THE SCHOOL DISTRICTS IN THE STATE.

IT IS UNFAIR The people of the local school districts should have the final voice as to where their children attend school.

YOU WILL PAY MORE TAXES if this act is passed. It will be very expensive because more new buildings will have to be constructed, yet at the same time, existing buildings and facilities which are already paid for, will be left vacant.

MANY COMMUNITIES AND CHILDREN WILL LOSE THEIR SCHOOLS if Act 1 Passes. All school districts with less than 400 students will automatically be dissolved. We believe that our children receive an equal education and more personal attention than they would in a large over-crowded school.

Please help us save our school and VOTE AGAINST INITIATED ACT NO. 1 on November 8th.

ALL THAT WORK FOR NOTHING

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) - Burglars worked through the early morning hours to pull a safe from a wall at Children's Medical Center, move it to another room and crack it open.

All they found inside was an envelope with the notation: "Combination to safe."

Doctors said the combination was locked inside the safe inadvertently when it was installed about a year ago and they had never bothered to attempt to open it.

Science Makes Progress On Prevention of Hepatitis

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

(Last of two related articles)

Since the prevalence of viral hepatitis appears to be increasing and since there is no specific treatment for this disease, doctors have turned their attention to preventive measures. To prevent the water-borne infectious hepatitis it is wise to wash your hands after each trip to the toilet and before each meal. Chlorination of the local water supply is a prime essential.

To prevent serum hepatitis doctors are avoiding transfusions of whole blood or blood plasma except as a lifesaving measure. Plasma substitutes, such as dextran, are safe. They are used instead of plasma whenever possible.

The use of disposable hypodermic needles has helped to prevent the transmission of serum hepatitis which has been known to follow the use of improperly sterilized needles. Since the disease may also be acquired from a tattooing needle, this is an added reason to discourage this practice.

The most encouraging discovery, however, is that of Dr. J. G. Allen of Stanford University. He found that when human plasma from a person with viral hepatitis is stored for six months at a temperature of 89 degrees Fahrenheit, the virus, although not killed, is no longer able to cause disease. Furthermore, when such plasma is given several months before a transfusion of whole blood, there is no danger of hepatitis resulting.

Allen now recommends that, instead of excluding persons who have had hepatitis from being blood donors, these people be encouraged to give blood to be used to make "immune plasma." Not only is any hepatitis virus that may be in such plasma tamed but also some of the donor's immunity to this disease is transferred.

Bad Play Is Often Hidden

By Oswald & James Jacoby Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Gray wrote "Full many a flower is born to blush unseen and waste its fragrance on the desert air." But he could not have had good bridge plays in mind. Good plays are always recognized by the man who makes them and occasionally by his partner and opponents.

Bad plays are usually overlooked. Now see if you can find a bad play somewhere in today's hand.

South let East hold the first heart trick with the queen and ducked a second time to let West win with the jack. West had nothing better to do than to lead a third heart. Dummy discarded a club and East a spade.

South entered dummy with a spade and successfully finessed the queen of diamonds. Back to dummy again for a second diamond play. East played his king and South let him hold the trick. East could not put his partner in and South made game with three spades, one heart, three diamonds and two clubs.

Have you seen the bad play as yet? It wasn't really a bad play. Just failure to make a very good play.

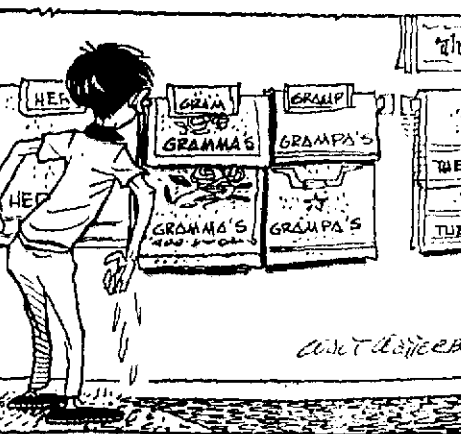

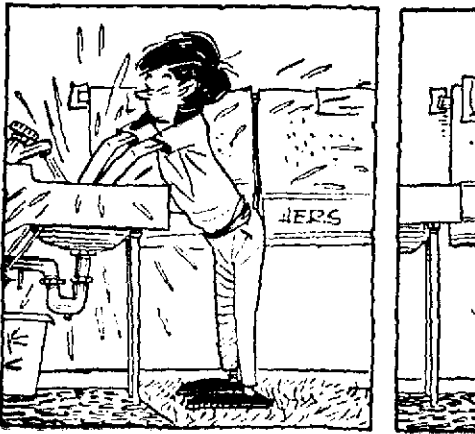

When West led the third heart it was up to East to throw away his king of diamonds. If he had done that West's jack of diamonds would have taken a trick and South would have had to settle for down one.

If South had been looking at all the cards he could have foiled this play by winning the second heart but South could not know that West had opened a six-card heart suit.

We Split Ticket: For Rockefeller, Hammerschmidt

A newspaper's primary obligation is to print the news and size up political issues regardless of faction or party, rather than endorse some candidate. All that any so-called newspaper endorsement means is that one man has made up his mind and is in a position to publicize his guess.

So instead of talking about who The Star stands for in next Tuesday's general election I'll merely say how I am going to vote personally.

I am going to vote for Winthrop Rockefeller for Governor, and for John Paul Hammerschmidt for Congress. Except for these two Republicans I am voting the Democratic ticket.

There is a fundamental fault in Democrat Jim Johnson's approach to public office — a fault that no editor with a long memory can overlook. A generation ago there was another Johnson also on the Arkansas Supreme Court and with the same fault — C. E. Johnson of Ashdown. Both Johnsons on reaching the high bench were expected to absolve themselves of politics and live a judicial life above reproach. Neither did so. Both campaigned among the people while on the bench. I repeatedly attacked the other Johnson — and certainly don't intend to vote for this one. If you don't trust a man in one job it doesn't make sense to talk about promoting him to a still higher post.

The thunder of the political campaign merely confuses the issue, which boils down to this: Who can do most for the state of Arkansas — Rockefeller or Johnson? I'll ride with the cattleman from Petit Jean.

I am voting for Hammerschmidt for Congress because it means a vote against Jim Trimble, who for a generation has been rubber-stamping his approval of every act of a mismanaged and profligate federal government.

If you object to high prices, tight money, and a feeling of impending doom for our Republic then you will join with me and help throw Trimble out.

There is no way out of the domestic jam that Washington's free-spenders have gotten us into except this one avenue — to beat every free-spender as he comes up for re-election.

Your common sense tells you this is so — just as your common sense tells you Government can no more go on borrowing and spending above its income without disaster than the individual citizen can.

The Washingtonians jauntily disregard criticism from newspapers and conservative economists and continue on their free-spending ways — but knock off their camp followers in an election and you'll see a change for the better.

The salvation of your country and yourself rides on how you vote Nov. 8.

Also on next Tuesday's ballot is Initiated Act No. 1 — the proposal to make consolidation of school districts into units of at least 400 pupils compulsory. I will vote FOR No. 1.

The state government furnishes most of the financial support for the smallest districts, therefore the state's voters have the right to regulate how those districts shall be arranged and managed, for more efficiency and a better educational system.

Depend on United States

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Eisaku Sato says that despite Communist China's explosion of a missile-borne nuclear warhead Japan will continue to rely on the United States for its security from nuclear attack.

"We have the capacity to develop nuclear weapons, but we are not doing so," Sato said. "Our policy is adherence to the nonproliferation of nuclear weapons. We depend on the United States (for protection)."

In an Associated Press interview Sato also praised President Johnson's trip to the Far East because of its possible contribution to the search for peace in Viet Nam.

Air Attacks Stepped Up Against Cong

By BOB GASSAWAY
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American air blows against North Viet Nam surged upward Wednesday for the second straight day with the weather again clear over Communist targets, the U.S. Command said today.

No large-scale fighting was reported on the ground in South Viet Nam.

A U.S. spokesman also disclosed that a North Vietnamese gun battery exchanged fire with a U.S. destroyer running in international waters nine days ago. The announcement said the American vessel was on routine patrol when fired upon.

In the air war, Navy, Marine and Air Force fliers pounded Communist surface-to-air missile sites, radar installations, communications links, storage and staging areas in the Communist North for a total of 165 missions, 10 short of the war's record.

A thick cloud cover and heavy overcast had obscured targets for several days before a partial clearing on Tuesday permitted 122 missions.

Air Force pilots reported a SAM site 33 miles northwest of Dong Hoi "appeared to be completely devastated" after day and night bombing. Three missiles were reported destroyed, while four launchers and other equipment in the area were destroyed or damaged.

Delaware Accuses the Supreme Court of Violating Constitution

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — The State of Delaware fired an angry blast at the Supreme Court today for refusing to hear a suit challenging the electoral college system.

In effect, Delaware Atty. Gen. David P. Buckson accused the court of violating the U.S. Constitution.

The court is required by the Constitution to settle disputes between the states, Buckson told the justices, and its refusal to give Delaware a hearing denies the state "due process of law in violation of the Fifth Amendment."

Last summer, while the court was in recess, Delaware asked permission to file its suit challenging the constitutionality of the "winner take all" electoral system. Under this procedure all of a state's electoral votes are cast, as a unit, for the presidential nominee who received a plurality of the popular votes in the state.

Though neither the Constitution nor federal law requires this system, it is in use in all Voting results from a ward in Hope have been judged important in the American Broadcasting Company's election night forecast by news analyst John Kraft over the ABC network, according to Mrs. E.D. Carmichael, president of the Magnolia League of Women Voters.

The Magnolia League has been requested by ABC to send representatives to Hope Nov. 8 to obtain any figures on voting in the gubernatorial election available before ABC goes off the air early in the morning of Nov. 3, she said.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Irwin of Magnolia, certified as election reporters by candidates of both major political parties, will cover the selected ward at Hope and phone in whatever results they can obtain to the New York studio of ABC.

Mrs. Irwin is a member of the board of directors of the Magnolia League and Dr. Irwin is chairman of the education department at Southern State College. League members have been asked to do the spot checking on selected wards and precincts of 48 of the 50 American states to assist the ABC news staff in forecasting results of the nationwide voting because they are known to be a non-partisan organization interested in promoting good citizenship by active and interested citizens, Mrs. Carmichael said, adding that the League never supports any candidate but takes a stand only on questions involving the welfare of the people.

The Magnolia League has been asked to report results in the gubernatorial and 4th congressional district races at selected wards or precincts in Hope, Magnolia, Stamps and Texarkana.

In Little Rock, the Rev. C. L. Clay, owner of a nursing home in Brinkley, added fuel to a GOP charge that Johnson was seeking the favor of welfare recipients. Clay said 65 letters on Jim Johnson for Governor campaign stationery were sent to his nursing home promising welfare raises.

Burton and Dr. Richard Yates, who researched tax records in Pulaski, Faulkner and Ashley Counties, where Johnson had residence, said Yates found Monday a $600 assessment for household goods for the years 1965 and 1966 that wasn't on the books when he investigated last month.

Burton said tax records in Ashley County showed an assessment for two vehicles in 1962 and none in 1963. He said one vehicle was assessed in Faulkner County in 1964 and a tax of $7.85 was paid in the name of James D. Johnson. He said, however, that there was no proof that this man was the Democratic candidate.

Burton said Johnson lived in a home on Lake Beaverfork near Conway that was estimated to be worth between $65,000 and $75,000.

Faubus Donates to Education TV

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus dipped into his emergency fund Wednesday to donate $5,000 to the Southern Regional Education Board for a regional education television study.

Arkansas is one of 15 SREB member states, but the 1965 legislature didn't appropriate funds for the project.

Disputes Crop Up in Race for Governor

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
The Republicans came up with the latest Wednesday in the week-long dispute over who is and who is not paying his taxes — charging that Jim Johnson apparently was tardy in assessing his household effects for property tax purposes.

Marion Burton, campaign manager for Winthrop Rockefeller, told a news conference that tax records in three counties indicated that Johnson, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, didn't assess his household effects until a few days ago.

Earlier, the Republicans had charged that John Cooper and Joe Basore, two Democratic campaign officials, apparently were short in their personal tax payments. The Democrats came back by saying that Rockefeller had not assessed his stocks and bonds.

Meanwhile, Johnson, in an eastern Arkansas swing, said he was not conceding a single county to Rockefeller. And Rockefeller, speaking to Pulaski County precinct workers, said his only regret of the campaign was that he had no chance "to be face to face" with Johnson to discuss the issues.

In Little Rock, the Rev. C. L. Clay, owner of a nursing home in Brinkley, added fuel to a GOP charge that Johnson was seeking the favor of welfare recipients. Clay said 65 letters on Jim Johnson for Governor campaign stationery were sent to his nursing home promising welfare raises.

Burton and Dr. Richard Yates, who researched tax records in Pulaski, Faulkner and Ashley Counties, where Johnson had residence, said Yates found Monday a $600 assessment for household goods for the years 1965 and 1966 that wasn't on the books when he investigated last month.

Body of Man Identified

JUSDONIA, Ark. (AP) — The body of a man identified as Allen B. Moody, 64, of Bald Knob was discovered in the Little Red River Wednesday near the Judsonia city limits.

Officers said Moody disappeared Oct. 20 from a nursing home here and apparently fell into the river.

Titan Rocket on 'Flying Circus' Flight

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The United States today fired the opening shot in its plan to develop a military man-in-space program by hurling an unmanned modified Gemini capsule over a scorching sub-orbital path. Then the same Air Force rocket orbited four satellites, one carrying a batch of satellite decoys.

The launching of the Gemini craft over a 33-minute ballistic course was the first test of hardware to be used in the Manned Orbiting Laboratory program, which expects its first manned flight in 1969. Goal of the program is to determine what military duties man can perform in space.

The 16-story-tall Titan 3 burst away from its launching pad at 8:51 a.m. EST on 2.5 million pounds of thrust generated by two solid-fuel booster engines and sped toward space on one of the most difficult assignments ever handed a U.S. rocket.

The flight control center reported the rocket "was on time and on the line" as it streaked out over the Atlantic Ocean.

Yerger FHA Officers Installed

Yerger F. H. A. Officers for 1966-67 are Carolyn Hickles — Parliamentarian, Mary Washington — Vice President, Joyce Hane-Historian, Brenda Milus-Song Leader, Loretta Williams-Assistant Secretary, Mercedes Smith-Treasurer, Mary Martin-Secretary, Bobbie Milus-President, Reporters— Sara Jones and Linda Mitchell—and Song Leader—Justine Dudley.

The Future Homemakers of America got off to another good year of work and 27 new members were invited in the organization and enjoyed a colorful program in Yerger High School gymnasium the last Friday in September, where the installation of officers and initiation service for members were held.

On Saturday, October 29, girls attended the F.H.A. Federation meeting at Henderson State College, Arkadelphia. The Theme—"21 Years-Foundations for Progress." The meeting was very well attended and the program was interesting, informative and inspiring.

Mercedes Smith was installed from this chapter as 2nd Vice President. Bobbie Milus gave the roll call and Loretta Williams registered the chapter.

Mrs. Doris Brown served as Club Mother for the group and Linda Mitchell and Sara Jones are reporters.

Lawyers to Watch Election

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Election Research Council said Wednesday that 26 lawyers will help watch over next Tuesday's general election in Arkansas.

"With the help of these lawyers we can better assist voters and election officials, and we can stay in closer, more immediate contact with the election scene on Tuesday," said John H. Haley, council chairman.

Haley said the council didn't expect to find "the appalling conditions" that existed in the 1964 election "but we believe a vigil is still in order in some areas."

Books Sales Are Authorized

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Attorney General Bruce Bennett said in an opinion Wednesday that the Arkansas History Commission and state Board of Education are authorized to copyright and sell a state history book.

Bennett said the manuscript became the property of Arkansas when the state paid for its preparation. The 1963 legislature appropriated $20,000 for the History Commission to contract for the preparation of the book.

Winter Strikes U.S., Deep South Reels From Severe Cold

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry weather, with snow, gusty winds, and unseasonably low temperatures, has made an early and unwelcome arrival in wide areas in the eastern half of the nation.

An intense storm early today centered over Lake Erie, dumping snow over a six-state area from Tennessee to Michigan. Heavy snow warnings continued, with from 3 to 6 inches indicated across the eastern and lower Great Lakes.

The early November storm left a blanket of snow up to 15 inches in central Kentucky and up to 10 inches covered sections in southeastern Tennessee, western Ohio and in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Smaller amounts were reported in other Midwest areas.

The Deep South also reeled from the cold and snow and sleet storms, the earliest in many years in some Southern cities. Four inches of snow was reported at Huntsville, Ala., and Birmingham reported the first measurable snow since 1951.

At least 12 storm-related deaths were reported, most of them in traffic accidents on snow-covered highways.

Severe cold, with the mercury edging to near zero in northern Minnesota, extended deep into the Southland with temperatures dipping near freezing into Florida. Jackson, Miss., reported a frosty 22 degrees.

Gale warnings were posted for most of the Great Lakes and the North Atlantic Coast.

Thousands of motorists were stranded in the snow belt, the most being reported in sections of western Ohio.

Most schools in Middle Tennessee and in some cities in Kentucky, including Louisville, were closed. Eight inches of snow fell in Louisville. Ten inches fell on Monticello Mountain, in southeastern Tennessee.

In Detroit outgoing airplane flights were canceled Wednesday. Three main highways were closed by snow in Tennessee.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 4 above at Hibbing, Minn., to 69 at Watertown, N.Y., and Key West, Fla.

Nurse Homes Seek More Welfare

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Nursing Home Association was reported Wednesday to be seeking a $25-a-month increase in rates charged welfare clients.

A. J. (Red) Moss, state welfare commissioner, said he had met with Association members and was sympathetic with their problems.

The Association reported that nursing homes had been caught between rising costs, stricter state standards and mandatory pay scale increases.

The Welfare Department pays nursing homes from $115 to $175 a month on the basis of the type of care given welfare clients.

LBJ Home, Plans Tour for Politics

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, home from his historic mission to the Far East, has appealed for unity behind American policy in Viet Nam — for "where there is a deep division in a land, there is danger."

"Where there is unity in the land, there is strength," Johnson said in a homecoming speech Wednesday night at rainy Dulles International Airport.

Johnson was at the White House today, but not for long. He is expected to open a fast-paced, final round of campaigning Friday to urge the election of Democrats in next Tuesday's state and congressional balloting.

Johnson said America's task in Viet Nam is far from done, but he said Asians—the people closest to the arena of conflict—know that Communist aggression there must be defeated.

"They know that it is their duty to help the United States keep these fires from spreading," he said, "and that effort will be increased."

And he said: "Those of us who met at Manila know the road may be long and difficult. We know that each of us will make mistakes. But if our countrymen will stand with us—if we will try to travel this difficult road together, I think that we will come out well at the end as America always has."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, campaigning in Shelby, Mont., said there can be no American withdrawal from Viet Nam until there are peace talks.

"Once an honorable peace is achieved, then we will be prepared to withdraw, lock, stock and barrel," Mansfield said. "Militarily, we cannot and will not be defeated."

There was campaign criticism, too, from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, in Charleston, W. Va. He said Johnson should announce a new strategy designed to shorten the war.

"If we are in war in Asia five years from now," Nixon said, "we're risking atomic war with Communist China."

One critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies was on hand to greet the President. Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., listened in the rain as Johnson reported: "It has been my hope and my prayer since I took leave of you that this journey and the meeting at Manila would help move things faster in the right directions. History will decide. No new treaties were made. No new commitments were offered. "But I can tell you now that I return much more confident and much more hopeful than when I left."

Invites Public to See Phones in Operation

Hope and Bodeaw telephone users are invited to go behind the scenes this Friday and Saturday and see how their telephone calls span the nation in a matter of seconds.

Southwestern Bell is having "open house" at its telephone building, located at 320 South Main across from First Baptist Church, from 3 to 8:30 p.m. on Friday, November 4, and from 2 to 8:30 p.m. on Saturday.

"We hope all our customers living in the Hope exchange area will take this opportunity to come and see us, and give us the chance to meet them," said Frank Meeks, manager for Southwestern Bell.

Meeks said telephone users will see how their telephone calls are actually handled, and a portion of the complex switching equipment which helps speed their calls across town or across the nation through the miracle of direct distance dialing.

"We'll have tours of the building, souvenirs and refreshments for everyone," Meeks said. "It's a good chance to bring the entire family, especially the children, and have an entertaining and informative time."

Meeks also added that two special prizes will also be given away, and anyone who attends stands a chance of winning.

OTHER DOESN'T DIG FE-EL PHILLOSOPHY

Dear Helen: I am just home from Viet Nam and things have changed a lot! For one thing,
my sister, who was a little girl
when I left, isn't any more. When I'm isn't on the phone she is in bathroom, working for an hour to get the "naked look"
her face. Now this really bores me. Why do girls spend so long making themselves look like they haven't got a bit of make-up on? She rubs things and wipes them off, puts different kinds of junk on her face, and then goes over it with a wet wash cloth. And the stick! You wouldn't believe it:
the tubes, all whiter than her skin!

Her hair -- this'll kill ya. She lightened it with that stuff
I buy, and NOW she puts it rollers every night so it will curl straight. I crunch a roller every step I take.
When she listens to records
she thinks a boy is looking at her, that "bare face" gets the
"naked look" which is most
the time.

Well, I smartened up and finally told him, "Keep going!" Then I "smiled, shrugged and circulated" (though I hurt!) In just a few weeks I met a Real Man. We were friends at first,
and then we knew it was love.
We'll be married in July and we couldn't be happier.

Thanks for your advice -- without it I might still be waiting for the wrong guy. -- Donna

Dear Donna: And thanks for your letter. Without it I might still be wondering "What ever

GOPs Staking Hopes on the Governors

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Republicans are staking most of their hopes for widening the base of their 1968 challenge to President Johnson primarily on the outcome of governors' races
in next Tuesday's balloting.

It is in these contests for control of statehouses that Democratic strategists privately concede they are considerably more vulnerable than they believe they are in the 435 House and 35 Senate contests to be decided at the same time.

From the current low point of 17 governors, Republicans hope for a substantial gain that will give them a chance to build state organizations geared toward capturing 1968 electoral votes in an uphill contest
against Johnson's expected re-election bid.

Although Democrats don't believe it will turn out that way,
some GOP strategists envision their party's occupancy of the governor's office in such key states as New York, California,
Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania,
Minnesota, Wisconsin, Maryland and Massachusetts in 1967.

To do this, the GOP would have to hold its seats in six of these states and add California,
Minnesota and Maryland. Democrats are not giving up on any of these nine big states, but they cannot be classed as overly optimistic about their chances in them.

In the smaller electoral vote
states, the Republicans are gunning for Democratic governors in Arizona, Arkansas, Nebraska,
Nevada, Iowa, New Hampshire and Vermont. They have some hopes in Alabama and Georgia.

The Democrats, who now control 36 statehouses, have a smaller target to shoot at. But they are talking about ousting
Republicans in Idaho, Kansas,
Oregon and Wyoming.

The Republicans have taken
heart at public opinion polls which indicate their best showing may be made in the governor's races.

"There's only despair and confusion on the right," Taft's campaign manager, Paul Rubin, says. "The salvation of the Republican party -- if there is a salvation -- is a man like Bob Taft."

For the Democrats: Lyndon
B. Johnson's success in pushing his "Great Society" programs through Congress has been due to the loyalty of 48 freshmen Democrats. If Republicans can win back half or more of these seats -- and this is one of them
-- Johnson will get little new legislation, and will have trouble financing programs he already has.

At a recent rally attended by Gilligan, Jimmy Simpkins of the Teamsters' Union put it on the line:

"If we lost 10 or 12 seats, the control of the House is going right back into the hands of the Republicans and the Southern Democrats. It would be a shame and a disgrace to the people of Ohio not to send this man back to Congress."

Sending this man back to Congress won't be easy.

This district is the eastern part of Hamilton County -- Cincinnati. It was strongly Republican when Gilligan shocked everyone, himself included, by winning by 5,411 votes in 1964.
To make sure this wouldn't happen again, the Ohio Legislature gave the district a little more real estate and 7,000 more Republican votes.

Democrats, especially those who are very poor, need a lot of arousing before they will go to the polls, and this is hard to do when there's no presidential race.

Gilligan isn't only fighting
Taft; he's also battling a computer.

Painstakingly, the name of every voter -- and his preferences -- was collected and fed to the machine. "You've got to go where the ducks are," Goldwater used to say. In these critical days before Nov. 8, Taft can go where the undecided ducks are.

On election day, in theory, the Democrats can round up every solid vote they have -- and can studiously ignore those they

HOPE (ARK.) STAR. Printed by Offset

know will go against them.
Good organization with the close ones; that's why Taft is rated a slight favorite.

Tall, husky men like Taft usually rate adjectives like "bluff"
and "hearty." Despite that impeccable family tree, despite Yale and Harvard, Taft at 49 is still shy and slow to warm up.
Suave he is not. But take him to the large, elegantly turned out home of Mrs. Joseph Clasgens Jr., before a large, elegantly turned out group of matrons, and they love him.

Gilligan is tall, red-haired,
graceful. Fascinated with the English language and the humanities at Notre Dame, he got his master's at the University of Cincinnati and wound up as an instructor in literature at Xavier University.

Although he served five and a half terms on the Cincinnati
City Council, Gilligan, at 45, retains some mannerisms of a modern prose and drama teacher, with the gesture that can end in a slight flutter, the answer that can be both amused
and a bit pedantic.

Rough-hewn he is not. But get him before the Teamsters,
proud of speaking glibly on gut
issues, and they love him.

Some good outdoor cooks like to brush steaks with a mixture of melted butter and Worcestershire sauce just before the meat is removed from the grill.

Language Often Has 2 Meanings

WASHINGTON (AP) -- In the Vietnamese war, language is like a rubber band, and both sides stretch it until what may seem clear at first glance turns out not to be clear at all.

Yet, it's just when the language is cloudy that one side or the other may be leaving the door open for eventual negotiations. It's when the language is clearest that both sides seem to slam the door.

Both the North Vietnamese Communists and the Viet Cong guerrillas -- the United States insists the Viet Cong are simply North Viet Nam's agents -- demand this country pull out its troops and abandon its bases in South Viet Nam.

But -- they're vague on just when the pull-out must take place, never saying precisely whether this means before any negotiations can begin or after negotiations start but before
there can be a final settlement.

In turn, President Johnson says the country is ready to begin talks about a settlement without "any preconditions." But this doesn't say or mean the United States wouldn't lay down conditions for peace when talks begin.

Committee Head May Lose Post

By ROB WOOD
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Rep. Harold D. Cooley, for 16 years the chairman of the powerful House Agriculture Committee, is running hard to turn back the challenge of a young Republican who gave him the scare of his political life two years ago.
At this point, says the experts, the race between Cooley, 69, and businessman James C. Gardner of Raleigh, 34, is a tossup.
In 1964, Cooley won a surprisingly close race by 5,000 votes in North Carolina's 4th District, historically a Democratic stronghold.
Cooley is campaigning on his congressional seniority, telling voters that his loss would remove a powerful voice from a committee vital to North Carolina, still dependent on the farms for much of its economy.
Gardner, handsome, soft-spoken and intense, was a registered Democrat until 1963, but changed "because I was dissatisfied with the party. I have always believed that the government should serve the people, not the people being slaves to the government."
Gardner, who owns a chain of drive-in restaurants, was elected chairman of the North Carolina GOP in 1964, but stepped down the following year to concentrate on another shot at Cooley.
The war in Viet Nam has been one issue between Cooley and Gardner. The young Republican has demanded a blockade of North Viet Nam's principal port, Haiphong, against all shipping, including that of U.S. allies. This, says Cooley, is an "immature and irresponsible" proposal.

HOSPITALITY
MEQUON, Wis. (AP) — When its lease ran out on its meeting place here, Christ Church (Lutheran) was without a place to worship, but the Roman Catholic School Sisters of Notre Dame quickly provided one, opening the doors of their convent to the Lutherans.
Said the Rev. Kaarl Danielson: "They not only opened their doors, but they also opened their hearts."

Carrot Cake Goes Traveling

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
THIS CARROT CAKE goes traveling.

When our friend Mary Barnette, a young flutist, goes on tour (last year with "Oliver," at present with a ballet company), she thinks longingly of home-made goodies. So wherever Mary goes, her Aunt Belle sends the carrot cake after her.

Auntie is Mrs. Belle B. Royal of Quincy, Florida, and the carrot-cake recipe came to her many years ago from North Carolina. When Mary Barnette was a little girl, she fell in love with the cake, so now Aunt Belle sees that the love lasts.

Before Mary left New York this year, she asked us whether we had ever tasted carrot cake. When we admitted we hadn't, she promptly brought us a generous portion of the one Auntie had just forwarded. One taste and we begged for the recipe. Here it is — and a fascinating cake it makes.

At home, Mrs. Royal always frosts the top of the carrot cake with cream-cheese frosting. But when the cake goes traveling, the frosting is omitted. That omission, in our opinion, doesn't really matter; the cake has such great flavor and is so deliciously moist that it can stand quite on its own.

AUNT BELLE'S CARROT CAKE
3 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons baking soda
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup raisins
1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
2 cups sugar
1 1/4 cups corn oil
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 large eggs

CARROT CAKE — Plain or topped with cream-cheese frosting, this delightfully moist cake keeps well.

3 cups finely grated (shredded) raw carrots
Cream Cheese Frosting
On waxpaper sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, cinnamon and salt. On another piece of waxpaper mix together the raisins and walnuts. Use 2 tablespoons of the sifted flour mixture and toss with raisins and walnuts.
In a large mixing bowl, beat together the sugar, oil and vanilla; thoroughly beat in eggs, one at a time. Stir in sifted dry ingredients in several additions, alternately with carrots, and blend batter just until smooth after each addition. Stir in floured raisin-walnut mixture.
Turn into a greased angelcake pan (10 by 3 inches); batter will not come up high in pan after baking. Bake in a preheated moderate (350 degrees) oven until top springs back when lightly touched with finger — about 1 1/4 hours. Place on wire rack to cool in pan for 10 minutes. Turn out on wire rack; turn right side up. Cool. Spread top with Cream Cheese Frosting.
Note: In measuring the carrot, Aunt Belle shakes it down in the measuring cup but does not pack it tightly — and we followed suit. To make the 3 cups of carrot called for, 6 medium-size carrots (pared) will be needed.

CREAM CHEESE FROSTING
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, soft
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
2 1/4 cups sifted confectioners sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
In a medium mixing bowl, stir together until blended the cream cheese and light corn syrup. Gradually stir in the sifted confectioners sugar, then the vanilla, keeping smooth. Makes enough frosting for top of Carrot Cake baked in 10-inch angelcake pan.

Suit Yourself

By ROBERT COCHNAR
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

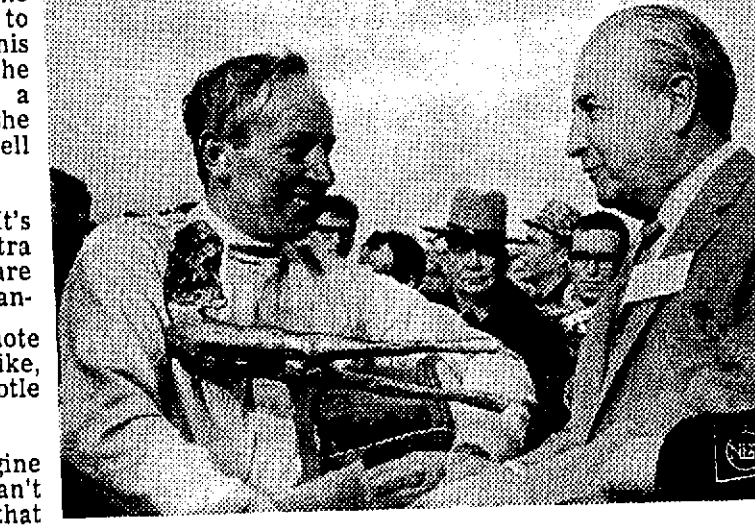

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The lissome chick snuggles up to her boy friend as he puts his Aston Martin DB-6 with the real leather seats through a racing change. "My," she breathes, "but you smell good."

"You like it?" he asks. "It's Stinkeray's 'Gung-Ho' extra dry. I rather enjoy its rare blend of bergamot and sandalwood with a citrus topnote and delicate, foliage-like, leathery bottom note. Subtle and very masculine."

Ah, yes. You can imagine such a conversation, can't you? It may yet come to that for men are indeed holding learned discussions about the advantages of one cologne over another. Naturally, the manufacturers are beside themselves with joy.

When Dana's cologne Canoe became a status symbol on the campus a couple of years ago mainly because it was expensive, the scent boom was on. There are now some 300

makers and distributors of men's toiletries have had to share the growing market with concerns which, heretofore, didn't know a citrus base

A. G. HURLSTONE, right, presents race driver John Surtees with the first edition of the Onyx Trophy which will be awarded annually to the driver of the fastest lap at the U.S. Grand Prix.

different products on the market with more, much more, to come.

Interestingly, the tradition from a third base. Jewelry firms, hat makers, belt makers have made competition keen.

It would seem, however, that a lot of manufacturers care more about artsy-craftsy packaging and fat advertising campaigns than they do about the stuff they put in their elegant bottles.

As a result, the man taken in by a neat package may wind up smelling like coal tar or yesterday's celery stew. And this disturbs the old-line perfumers who are interested mainly in the product.

Says A. G. Hurlstone, chairman of the board of Lenthier, a proud British firm which has watched unhappily as plenty of second-class operations flooded the American market with a cacophony of smells:

"These people are trying to sell something very personal. After all, a man puts cologne on his face; he doesn't wash his socks with it. A lot of the new distributors haven't realized that long-term success is measured by repeat sales."

"A cologne or lotion is very much like a painting," Hurlstone continued. "The artist, or manufacturer, must blend a great many elements and create one, long-lasting impression. If that impression is pleasing, the artist, or manufacturer, is successful. If it is not, he loses."

Despite the plethora of smells commercially available, the scent business is very risky. A maker can, Hurlstone explained, devise something that will sell wildly for a year and then sales will dwindle to nothing.

"We, whose only business is cosmetics, have got to present the public with a product which will always be popular. If we don't, we might just as well pack up."

Lenthier's own men's cologne (Onyx) is the result of years of testing and experimenting. It has so far been successful in Europe but that doesn't mean it will take America by storm.

Joan Crosby's TV Notebook

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The pup was exactly what you'd expect at a party celebrating the opening of a store specializing in mod fashions.

One tall, beautiful girl was dressed from neck to toe in a sea of white ostrich feathers. Another girl, with long red hair, looked like Prince. A giant gone astray in silver, silver boots and a short quonzo ostrich coat. Go-Go's in beaded fringed mini-skirts wiggled and writhed to Beatles' recording.

In the midst of the gaiety, a male photographer in black and a female photographer in a black, sequined dress and feathered headpiece took pictures and awaited the arrival of Sisterbaby, the star of the world of fashion who, as was doomed to be, was altered almost immediately.

It was a scene for "The Ending of Sisterbaby," to be seen on ABC-TV's Hawk on Nov. 3. It was one of the most lavish, expensive and popular scenes the critically acclaimed (but unfortunately cancelled) series has filmed. The female photographer's was not a large one—it consisted of one line, "Are you going to be searched?" spoken to King Donovan, who plays a policeman. It may not be the greatest line in the world, but it was mine, and I loved it. The scene, which opens the episode and which will take about two minutes on the screen, took all day and then some. Burt Reynolds, who stars as Hawk, was dressed in black tie as a guest at the party. During lunch break, he sat in his dressing room, ate a veal cutlet and talked.

"We have put in some incredible hours on this show," he said. "And I have loved it." During one period he worked 48 straight hours, breaking David Janssen's record. "I was acting like Rocky Graziano by the end of the time," he laughed.

Later, after news of the cancellation of the series, he said, "I have a bad taste in my mouth. I don't know what I will do after we finish production. I plan to go to the coast and talk to the people at the studio. They have a movie in mind and they are talking about television. I had a good series. The critics said so, yet the studio couldn't keep it on the network. What are they going to give me now—something that isn't good?"

"I wonder about the function of critics and the function of actors. People say a show is good, and they are knowledgeable and still it doesn't stay on. Knowing my fat mouth, I'd better not say too much. I'm running out of studios and I'm running out of networks."

"But some good things have come out of the series. There have been lots of offers, and I'm being allowed to direct the last Hawk."

STITCHIN' TIME...

By JOANNE SCHREIBER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The Advent Calendar for many children is a part of the Christmas season as beloved as the stocking on the mantle. The 24 tiny peepholes, opened one by one each morning from the first of December to Christmas Eve, help youngsters count the days to Christmas. The calendar itself contributes to the wonderful expectancy of the season.

Here's a suggestion for a permanent Advent Calendar. Make it of felt, to be hung as a year-after-year family tradition, with ornaments that move aside to reveal pictures cut from last year's Christmas cards. Move one ornament a day, till the most beautiful picture of all is revealed at the top of the tree.

To make the calendar tree, you'll need one yard each of white and green felt (72 inches wide) and 1/4-yard red felt. For trimming, you'll need 3 yards each of Emerald Green, Almond Green and Atom Red rickrack, plus 7 1/2 yards of gold metallic rickrack. Add 5 yards of red soutache braid, red and green thread, 24 large snaps and some glue to complete the list of ingredients.

Cut out the white felt for background to measure 36 inches by 62 inches. To make tree, fold green felt to 18-inch width. Measure 16 inches from center fold and mark. Measure 46 inches up from base along fold and mark. Draw diagonal line from mark on fold to mark on raw edge. Cut along line, to make a triangle 32 inches at base and 46 inches high.

To make the base, cut a flowerpot shape as pictured, measuring 12 inches along the top, 8 inches along the bottom and 6 inches high. Cut 24 red circles of 3-inch diameter, and 24 white circles of 2 1/2-inch diameter.

To trim tree base, interlock strips of green rickrack and stitch in place 1-inch from top and bottom of tree base. Center tree base 4 inches from bottom of white background piece and stitch in place. Center tree along top of tree base, matching center folds of tree and background piece. Top of tree should come to 6 inches from top of background. Pin and stitch in place.

Sew large snaps to top of each red circle. Glue in place. (If you want to sew red circles in place, this should be done before the tree is stitched to the background loop. Snap white circles to place over red circle. White ornaments will move to reveal picture.

Complete trim with swags of gold rickrack threaded through soutache loops and pinned at sides. The Advent Tree Calendar is an ideal project for groups.

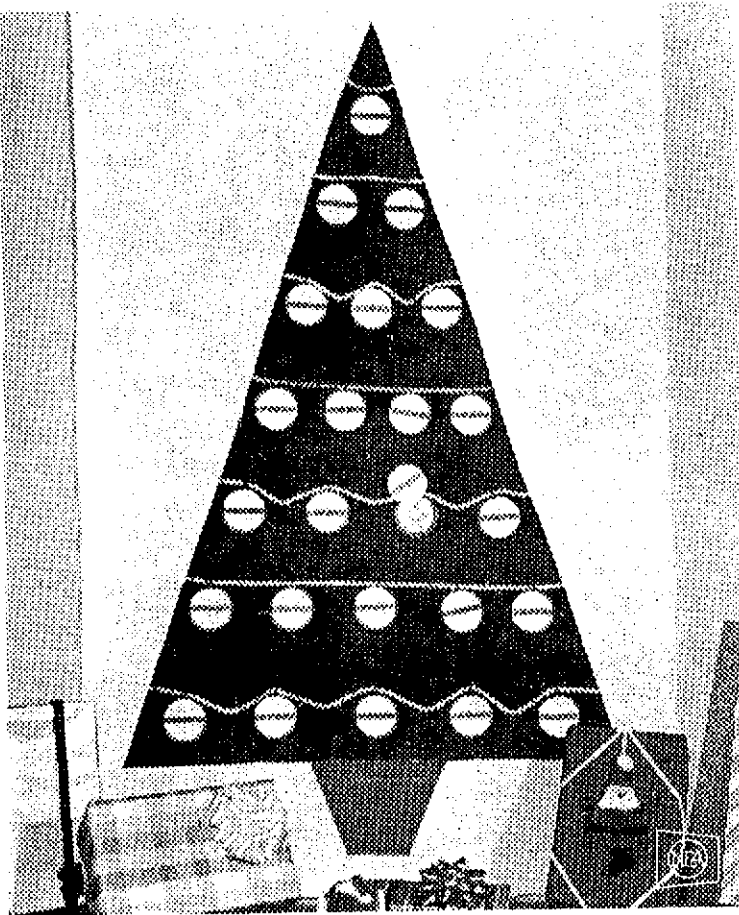

piece. Cut out 24 Christmas scenes to fit in red circles. Tape in place.

To make white ornaments, trim white circles with interlocking strips of rickrack in red and green. Cut 24 pieces of red soutache braid 3 inches long, overlap to form loop and stitch a loop on the back of each white circle. Stitch snaps in place over soutache such as Sunday School classes, Girl Scouts or clubs and could be a star attraction at a Christmas bazaar.

When the Christmas season is over, remove the paper pictures and roll the hanging for storage. Put the year's harvest of Christmas cards with it, and select your Christmas scenes to hide under the ornaments for next year.

Boned Leg of Lamb Easy on the Carver

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A boned and netted leg of lamb served with dried fruits in syrup is a handsome roast, both delicious and welcome to the not-too-experienced carver. If your butcher does not have these new netted roasts, ask him to bone, roll and tie the leg for you.

These netted legs average about 6 pounds of solid meat. Allow about 35 minutes a pound for roasting. Remove net before carving.

- NETTED LEG OF LAMB WITH DRIED FRUITS (Makes 10 to 12 servings)
- 1 boned leg of lamb, rolled and netted
 - Salt
 - Coarsely ground black pepper
 - Crushed rosemary leaves
 - Garlic powder
 - 1 package (11 ounces) dried mixed fruit
 - 2 cups water
 - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 - 1/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon EACH: cinnamon, mace, ginger

SERVE DRIED FRUITS with leg of lamb.

Dash cloves
1 can (12 ounces) apricot nectar

Place netted lamb on rack in shallow roasting pan. Sprinkle generously with salt, pepper, rosemary and garlic powder. Roast in 325-degree (slow) oven 35 minutes per pound or until meat thermometer registers 180 degrees. Meanwhile, in medium saucepan, combine dried fruit, water, lemon juice, sugar and seasonings; bring to a boil and simmer gently, uncovered, 30 minutes or until fruit is tender. Drain fruit, reserving syrup. Stir apricot nectar into reserved syrup. Baste lamb frequently with fruit glaze during last hour of roasting time.

When ready to serve, remove lamb from oven and let set 10 minutes. Cut netting lengthwise on upper side and peel down carefully in one piece. Combine remaining fruit glaze with cooked fruit and heat to serving temperature. Serve with meat.

Meat Loaf With a Difference

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

This away-from-the-ordinary meat loaf—wrapped in cabbage leaves and studded with ripe olives—is worth a try. Good for fall buffet parties.

- RIPE OLIVE HUNTERS LOAF
- 1 medium head cabbage
 - 1 gallon boiling water
 - Salt
 - 1 (No. 1) tall can pitted ripe olives
 - 1 1/2 pounds ground lean beef
 - 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
 - 1 beaten egg
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 - 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
 - 1/4 cup milk
 - 1/2 teaspoon caraway seeds
 - 1/4 teaspoon thyme
 - Wine Sauce

RIPE OLIVES, cabbage in a meat loaf.

greased, 9x12x4-inch loaf pan with cabbage leaves. Cover with half the meat mixture smoothing top. Arrange another layer of cabbage leaves over this cover with remaining meat, then top with cabbage. Cover closely with foil, place on baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) one hour and 15 minutes. Remove foil. Place wire cooling rack over pan and drain liquid from loaf into measuring cup set aside for Wine Sauce. Turn loaf out onto heated platter and keep warm while preparing sauce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

WINE SAUCE: Blend one tablespoon flour with one tablespoon melted butter. To liquid drained from loaf add water to measure 2-cup. Stir into butter-flour mixture; add one bouillon cube and 1/2-cup white wine. Cook, stirring, until sauce boils and thickens slightly. Strain reserved 1/2-cup olives and add to sauce.
